

Gone! Brave One, Gone!

A MEMORIAL TRIBUTE To

SONG AND CHORUS BY

Walter A. Perry,

Author of "Oh, Where have the Old Folks Gone?" and "By-Gone Days Recalled."

— 40 c. —

PUBLISHED BY PERRY & NOBLE.
NEW BEDFORD, MASS.

Copyright, 1885, by PERRY & NOBLE.

J. F. LOUGHLIN, Music Printer, 20 Hawley St., Boston.

1875

Capt. Freeman Kennedy Reed

—Gone, Brave One, Gone.—

A TRIBUTE TO GEN. GRANT.

Words and Music by WALTER A. PERRY.

SONG & CHORUS.

Introduction.

1. Gone, brave one, gone from us, ne'er to re - turn! Gone, brave one, gone, all thy hon - ors thou hast earned;
2. Gone, brave one, gone, thy fu - ture to learn; Gone, brave one, gone, for thee our hearts still yearn;

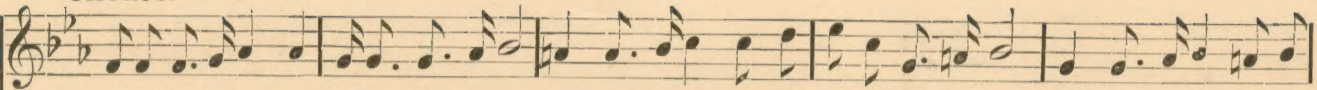

Gone, dear old sol - dier, thy last vic - t'ry's won. O God, with-out thee what would thy country've done;
 Gone, with God's seal on thy heart and thy brow, For thee, all the world in sor - row now doth bow;

Ever shall thy name with heroes' be enrolled; Long shall the tale of thy no-ble deeds be told.
 Lone - ly and sad we miss thy guid-ing hand; Ne'er shall our boys march a - gain at thy com-mand.

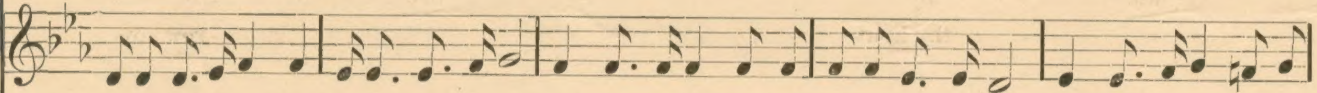

Gone, brave one, gone, thy re-ward now to reap; God in his mer-cy will a watch o'er thee keep.
 Gone, brave one, gone, thy re - ward now to reap; God in his mer-cy will a watch o'er thee keep.

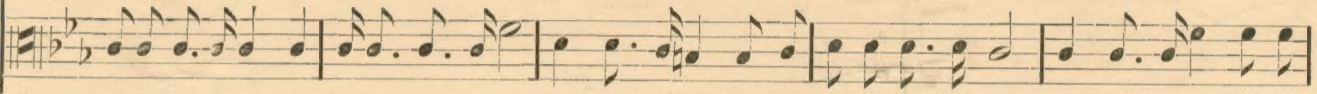

GONE, BRAVE ONE, GONE.

CHORUS.

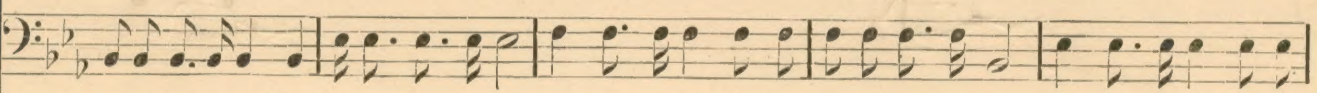

Sop.

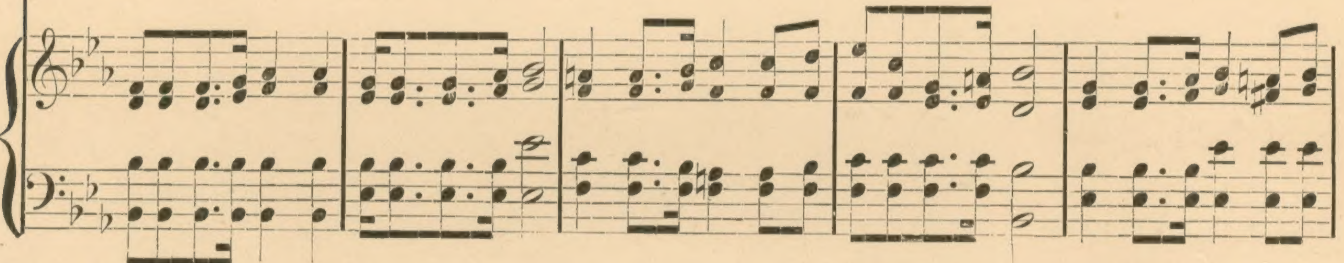

Ever shall thy name with heroes' be enrolled; Long shall the tale of thy noble deeds be told; Gone, brave one, gone, thy re-

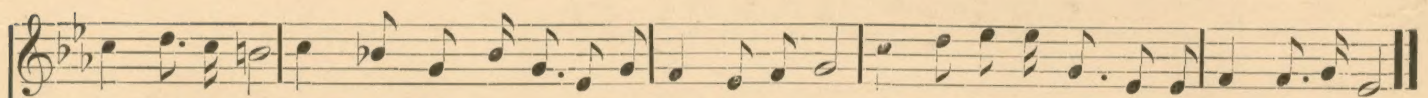

Alto.

Ten.

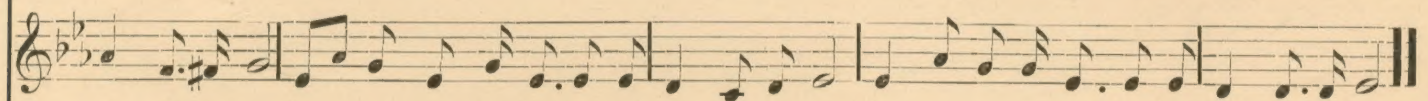

Ever shall thy name with heroes' be enrolled; Long shall the tale of thy noble deeds be told; Gone, brave one, gone, thy reward now to reap, God in his mer-cy will a watch o'er thee keep; God in his mer-cy will a watch o'er thee keep.

Bass.

Accomp.

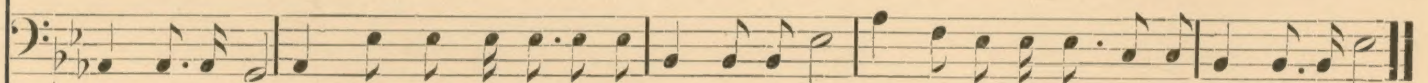

ward now to reap, God in his mer-cy will a watch o'er thee keep; God in his mer-cy will a watch o'er thee keep.

GONE, BRAVE ONE, GONE.

Send for the New Song, Oh! Where Have the Old Folks Gone? and By-Gone Days Recalled. Sent Post-paid on receipt of 40 cents.

